Amie Seiberlich, M.A., CI and CT
RID Region IV Representative

Amie's passion for leadership in the field of interpreting began in 1993. Early in her leadership career she developed the understanding that positive change is born not of being constrained by our past, but by dreaming - without limit - of our desired future. As President of the Colorado RID from 2002-2006 Amie continued to explore and create her own leadership dream - which led to the founding of the Leadership Institute for Interpreters and election to her current position as RID Region IV Representative.

In addition to her work with the Leadership Institute Online Education Center Amie shares her passion for leadership by coordinating and facilitating "Leadership and Visioning Retreats" for officers and members of RID state affiliate chapters, regional groups and other interpreting related organizations. She presents on a variety of leadership and K-12 related topics locally and nationally and wrote her Master's Thesis on local and state affiliate leadership in RID. Amie is the 2006 recipient of the "Spirit of Region IV Award" for her leadership training efforts within the Region. She is also the recipient of the 2006 Colorado RID Most Valuable President (MVP) Award and the 2007 Mary Lee Ragland Award for the Outstanding Colorado RID Member of the Year.

Amie has also developed coursework for the University of Northern Colorado's DO IT Center and Regis University, and is currently teaching courses she developed in leadership, supervision and interpreting. She is a Certified Appreciative Inquiry (AI) Facilitator and utilizes AI in her consultation and retreat work.

Amie holds a Master's degree in Communication from the University of Denver, a Bachelor's degree in Journalism from Marquette University, an Associate's degree in Sign Language Interpreting from Front Range Community College and RID CI and CT Certification. Outside of professional circles and in her free time Amie can be found in the Rocky Mountains on her motorcycle or in her kayak, exploring the Colorado backcountry, perfecting her water and snow skiing techniques and enjoying time with her family.
